I have lived in Millen going on six years. I am from a small town just like Millen, Ninety-six, SC. I give credit to God for my ability to thrive and make a difference with everything I come across. My values are to constantly get better and to train others to learn and try hard at any task they are taking on. My goals are to teach the employees that work at B&T how to thrive and work hard.

- Angie Garvin Johnson - Jenkins Co. School System
Returning to my home in 2017, I have seen such a wonderful change in the community. The revitalization of downtown is beautiful, and there is such a sense of community spirit. My family and I are rooted in our school system but for us to fully thrive as a school/community, there is a need for us to become a united front. It would be an honor to serve our community in any capacity needed.
